2. Equity Shares that are classified as 'Group I Security" by SEBI/Exchanges only shall be eligible for MTF. Dhan, at its discretion, may not provide funding under MTF to certain equity shares though classified to be "Group I Security" by SEBI. Group I stocks other than F&O stocks	VaR + 5 times of applicable ELM*

*For aforesaid purpose, the applicable VaR and ELM shall be as in the cash segment for a particular stock.

5. Client shall be required to provide the minimum initial margin as applicable for a particular stock to buy that stock under MTF. The margin shall never be lower than that prescribed by the Stock Exchange/SEBI. However, Dhan shall have the right to demand a higher initial margin than the margin prescribed by SEBI/Stock Exchanges.
6. Subject to the initial margin as aforesaid, Dhan may, at its sole and absolute discretion, revise and increase from time to time the margin required for any stock permitted to be traded under MTF. Where a client has exposure in the stock in respect of which margin has been revised but does not already have sufficient credit in the account to meet increase in margin, Client shall pay margin found short within the time prescribed for making margin payment.
7. Applicable minimum initial margin, increased margin, margin shortfall, if any, can be paid in the form of cash, cash equivalent (via electronic/digital payment mode only), or Group I equity shares with appropriate hair cut as specified in SEBI Master Circular No. SEBI/HO/MRD/DP/CIR/P/2016/135, DTD. 16/12/2016. Dhan shall not be obliged to liquidate shares proportionate to the shortage in margin.
11. Client in margin default shall continue to be in margin default, until the required margin is furnished in full to eliminate the shortage. Partial payment of margin or a change in the required margin shall not extend the time stipulated for making margin payment which will run from the time of making margin call to the Client.
12. In case margin is reduced by an amount equal to applicable ELM component of the total margin due to market volatility within a trading day (i.e., available margin becomes equal to or less than applicable VaR margin), Dhan reserves the right to liquidate the collaterals and/or funded shares forthwith without prior notice to the client.
13. MTF Clients purchasing shares not specified in Dhan Approved List of Group 1 securities shall be required to 100% margin upfront for such purchases.

17. Any loss arising from liquidation of the shares shall be to the account of the Client. Client shall forthwith pay Dhan any unpaid dues outstanding in the account after liquidation of the shares.
18. Dhan reserves the right to withdraw MTF with respect to any Client without assigning any reason after giving a reasonable notice to the Client in which case dues if any outstanding in the account of the Client shall become payable immediately. 20. Dhan shall not use the funds and securities of one client to provide MTF to another client, even on the authority of the client.

22. Dhan may at its option allow client to buy further shares under MTF on the basis of increase in the value of collateral shares, subject to applicable haircut. Further purchase shall not be permitted on the basis of increase in the market value of funded shares.
23. IPF shall not be available for transactions done on the Stock Exchange, through MTF, in case of any losses suffered in connection with the MTF availed by the client.
24. Dhan shall restrict the maximum gross exposure as well as individual stock-wise exposure of a client under the MTF at any point in time according to its internal policies and market views without assigning any reason(s) to the client. Furnishing applicable margin shall not by itself entitle the client to seek exposure beyond the limit restricted by Dhan.
25. Admitting clients for MTF shall be at the discretion of the Stock Broker/Trading Member. Clients' request for admission to MTF may be disallowed without assigning any reason.
26. By agreeing to avail of MTF, the client shall be deemed to have authorized Dhan to retain and/or pledge the shares purchased under MTF (funded shares) and collateral shares provided as margin till the amount due in respect of the purchase and all other dues are paid in full by the Client.
27. All outstanding dues under MTF shall carry interest @ 0.05% daily.
28. Outstanding dues shall not be carried in the books beyond 90 days from the date of accrual and in case Client fails to pay up the dues within the said 90 days, collateral and/or funded shares shall be sold to liquidate the dues, even though applicable margin is available in the MTF account of the Client. For this purpose, 90 days shall be computed with respect to each debit entry in respect of purchases under MTF separately and liquidation shall be carried out accordingly. Dhan shall have discretion to sell any stock/stocks to liquidate the outstanding dues older than 90 days.
29. Clients shall be free to take delivery of the shares purchased under MTF anytime, but not later than 90 days, from the date of funding by making full payment of the outstanding dues in relation to the shares purchased.

30. Until full payment of the outstanding dues in the MTF A/c is made by the Client, collateral shares and funded shares, as far as may be required, shall be retained in the Demat A/c of Dhan, separately identified as collateral shares and funded shares.

31. Daily margin statements sent to the MTF clients shall identify margin/collateral for MTF transactions separately.

32. MTF account where there is no transaction under MTF for more than 90 days shall be settled immediately on expiry of said 90 days provided there are no dues outstanding in the MTF account. Dues if any outstanding in the normal trading account shall be first adjusted against the settlement amount and the remainder shall be paid to the Client.

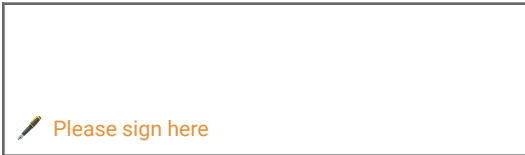

33. Dhan shall declare and communicate to the Client risk management policies that it will follow with respect to MTF transactions. Dhan may amend the policies from time to time according to its risk perceptions and inform the Clients of the amendments made.

34. Any disputes arising between the client and Dhan in connection with the margin trading facility shall be resolved through the investor grievance redressal mechanism and/or arbitration mechanism of the stock exchanges as in the case of normal trades.

35. The Rights and Obligations prescribed hereinabove shall be read in conjunction with the rights and obligations as prescribed under SEBI circular No. CIR/MIRSD/16/2011 dated August 22, 2011, SEBI Circular No. CIR/MRD/DP/54/2017 Dtd. Any information contained in this document must not be construed as business advice. No consideration to trade should be made without thoroughly understanding and reviewing the risks involved in such trading. If you are unsure, you must seek professional advice on the same. In considering whether to trade or authorize someone to trade for you, you should be aware of or must get acquainted with the following:

1. BASIC RISKS:

1.1 Risk of Higher Volatility: Volatility refers to the dynamic changes in price that a security/derivatives contract undergoes when trading activity continues on the Stock Exchanges. Generally, higher the volatility of a security/derivatives contract, greater is its price swings. There may be normally greater volatility in thinly traded securities / derivatives contracts than in active securities / derivatives contracts. As a result of volatility, your order may only be partially executed or not executed at all, or the price at which your order got executed may be substantially different from the last traded price or change substantially thereafter, resulting in notional or real losses.

1.2 Risk of Lower Liquidity: Liquidity refers to the ability of market participants to buy and/or sell securities/derivatives contracts expeditiously at a competitive price and with minimal price difference. Generally, it is assumed that more the numbers of orders available in a market, greater is the liquidity. Liquidity is important because with greater liquidity, it is easier for investors to buy and/or sell securities / derivatives contracts swiftly and with minimal price difference, and as a result, investors are more likely to pay or receive a competitive price for securities / derivatives contracts purchased or sold. There may be a risk of lower liquidity in some securities / derivatives contracts as compared to active securities / derivatives contracts. As a result, your order may only be partially executed, or may be executed with relatively greater price difference or may not be executed at all. Buying or selling securities / derivatives contracts as part of a day trading strategy may also result into losses, because in such a situation, securities / derivatives contracts may have to be sold / purchased at low / high prices, compared to the expected price levels, so as not to have any open position or obligation to deliver or receive a security / derivatives contract.

1.3 Risk of Wider Spreads: Spread refers to the difference in best buy price and best sell price. It represents the differential between the price of buying a security / derivatives contract and immediately selling it or vice versa. Lower liquidity and higher volatility may result in wider than normal spreads for less liquid or illiquid securities / derivatives contracts. This in turn will hamper better price formation.

1.4 Risk-reducing orders: The placing of orders (e.g. "stop loss" orders, or "limit" orders) which are intended to limit losses to certain amounts may not be effective many a time because rapid movement in market conditions may make it impossible to execute such orders.

1.4.1 A 'Market' order will be executed promptly, subject to availability of orders on opposite side, without regard to price and that, while the customer may receive a prompt execution of a "market" order, the execution may be at available prices of outstanding orders, which satisfy the order quantity, on price time priority. It may be understood that these prices may be significantly different from the last traded price or the best price in that security / derivatives contract.

1.4.2 A 'Limit' order will be executed only at the "limit"; price specified for the order or a better price. However, while the customer receives price protection, there is a possibility that the order may not be executed at all.

1.4.3 A 'Stop Loss' order is generally placed "away"; from the current price of a stock / derivatives contract, and such order gets activated if and when the security / derivatives contract reaches, or trades through, the stop price. Sell stop orders are entered ordinarily below the current price, and buy stop orders are entered ordinarily above the current price. When the security / derivatives contract reaches the pre - determined price, or trades through such price, the stop loss order converts to a market/limit order and is executed at the limit or better. There is no assurance therefore that the limit order will be executable since a security / derivatives contract might penetrate the pre- determined price, in which case, the risk of such order not getting executed arises, just as with a regular limit order.

1.5 Risk of News Announcements: News announcements that may impact the price of stock / derivatives contract may occur during trading, and when combined with lower liquidity and higher volatility, may suddenly cause an unexpected positive or negative movement in the price of the security/contract.

1.6 Risk of Rumors: Rumors about companies / currencies at times float in the market through word of mouth, newspapers, websites or news agencies, etc. The investors should be wary of and should desist from acting on rumors.

1.7 System Risk: High volume trading will frequently occur at the market opening and before market close. Such high volumes may also occur at any point in the day. These may cause delays in order execution or confirmation.

1.7.1 During periods of volatility, on account of market participants continuously modifying their order quantity or prices or placing fresh orders, there may be delays in order execution and its confirmations.

1.7.2 Under certain market conditions, it may be difficult or impossible to liquidate a position in the market at a reasonable price or at all, when there are no outstanding orders either on the buy side or the sell side, or if trading is halted in a security / derivatives contract due to any action on account of unusual trading activity or security / derivatives contract hitting circuit filters or for any other reason.

1.8 System/Network Congestion: Trading on exchanges is in electronic mode, based on satellite/leased line based communications, combination of technologies and computer systems to place and route orders. Thus, there exists a possibility of communication failure or system problems or slow or delayed response from system or trading halt, or any such other problem/ glitch whereby not being able to establish access to the trading system/network, which may be beyond control and may result in delay in processing or not processing buy or sell orders either in part or in full. You are cautioned to note that although these problems may be temporary in nature, but when you have outstanding open positions or unexecuted orders, these represent a risk because of your obligations to settle all executed transactions.

2. As far as Derivatives segments are concerned, please note and get yourself acquainted with the following additional features:

2.1 Effect of Leverage & Gearing In the derivatives market, the amount of margin is small relative to the value of the derivatives contract so the transactions are Derivatives trading, which is conducted with a relatively small amount of margin, provides the possibility of great profit or loss in comparison with the margin amount. But transactions in derivatives carry a high degree of risk.

You should therefore completely understand the following statements before actually trading in derivatives and also trade with caution while taking into account one's circumstances, financial resources, etc. If the prices move against you, you may lose a part of or whole margin amount in a relatively short period of time. Moreover, the loss may exceed the original margin amount.

- a. Futures trading involves daily settlement of all positions. Every day the open positions are marked to market based on the closing level of the index / derivatives contract. If the contract has moved against you, you will be required to deposit the amount of loss (notional) resulting from such movement. This amount will have to be paid within a stipulated time frame, generally before commencement of trading on the next day.
- b. If you fail to deposit the additional amount by the deadline or if an outstanding debt occurs in your account, the stock broker may liquidate a part of or the whole position or substitute securities. In this case, you will be liable for any losses incurred due to such close-outs.
- c. Under certain market conditions, an investor may find it difficult or impossible to execute transactions. For example, this situation can occur due to factors such as illiquidity i.e. when there are insufficient bids or offers or suspension of trading due to price limit or circuit breakers etc.
- d. In order to maintain market stability, the following steps may be adopted: changes in the margin rate, increases in the cash margin rate or others. These new measures may also be applied to the existing open interests. In such conditions, you will be required to put up additional margins or reduce your positions.
- e. You must ask your broker to provide the full details of derivatives contracts you plan to trade i.e. the contract specifications and the associated obligations.

2.2 Currency specific risks: The profit or loss in transactions in foreign currency-denominated contracts, whether they are traded in your own or another jurisdiction, will be affected by fluctuations in currency rates where there is a need to convert from the currency denomination of the contract to another currency.

2.2.1 Under certain market conditions, you may find it difficult or impossible to liquidate a position. This can occur, for example when a currency is deregulated or fixed trading bands are widened.

2.2.2 Currency prices are highly volatile. Price movements for currencies are influenced by, among other things: changing supply-demand relationships; trade, fiscal, monetary, exchange control programs and policies of governments; foreign political and economic events and policies; changes in national and international interest rates and inflation; currency devaluation; and sentiment of the marketplace. None of these factors can be controlled by any individual advisor and no assurance can be given that an advisors; advice will result in profitable trades for a participating customer or that a customer will not incur losses from such events.

2.3 Risk of Option holders:

2.3.1 An option holder runs the risk of losing the entire amount paid for the option in a relatively short period of time. This risk reflects the nature of an option as a wasting asset which becomes worthless when it expires. An option holder who neither sells his option in the secondary market nor exercises it prior to its expiration will necessarily lose his entire investment in the option. If the price of the underlying does not change in the anticipated direction before the option expires, to an extent sufficient to cover the cost of the option, the investor may lose all or a significant part of his investment in the option.

2.3.2 The Exchanges may impose exercise restrictions and have absolute authority to restrict the exercise of options at certain times in specified circumstances.

2.4 Risks of Option Writers:

2.4.1 If the price movement of the underlying is not in the anticipated direction, the option writer runs the risk of losing a substantial amount.

2.4.2 The risk of being an option writer may be reduced by the purchase of other options on the same underlying interest and thereby assuming a spread position or by acquiring other types of hedging positions in the options markets or other markets. However, even where the writer has assumed a spread or other hedging position, the risks may still be significant. A spread position is not necessarily less risky than a simple long or short & position.

2.4.3 Transactions that involve buying and writing multiple options in combination, or buying or writing options in combination with buying or selling short the underlying interests, present additional risks to investors. Combination transactions, such as option spreads, are more complex than buying or writing a single option. And it should be further noted that, as in any area of investing, a complexity not well understood is, in itself, a risk factor. While this is not to suggest that combination strategies should not be considered, it is advisable, as is the case with all investments in options, to consult with someone who is experienced and knowledgeable with respect to the risks and potential rewards of combination transactions under various market circumstances.

3 TRADING THROUGH WIRELESS TECHNOLOGY/ SMART ORDER ROUTING OR ANY OTHER TECHNOLOGY:

3.1 Any additional provisions defining the features, risks, responsibilities, obligations and liabilities associated with securities trading through wireless technology/smart order routing or any other technology should be brought to the notice of the client by the stock broker.

4 GENERAL

4.1 The term 'constituent' shall mean and include a client, a customer or an investor, who deals with a stock broker for the purpose of acquiring and/or selling of securities / derivatives contracts through the mechanism provided by the Exchanges.

4.2 The term 'stockbroker' shall mean and include a stock broker, a broker or a stock broker, who has been admitted as such by the Exchanges and who holds a registration certificate from SEBI.
